

OXFORD SOCIAL IMPACT NEWSLETTER - JUNE 2022

Applications are open

Oxford Social Finance Programme

The pandemic, global recession, climate change and shifting geopolitics require new collaborative and creative ways to use capital. Join fellow participants seeking to address the world's most existential and difficult issues. The programme will help you understand the range of sources for capital, and how to deploy and combine them to achieve large scale positive impact.

Applications are currently open for our September 2022 Social Finance Programme.

Social Impact Reunion

17 - 18 September we will be hosting our inaugural Oxford Social Impact Reunion weekend. The event is exclusive to Alumni of the Social Impact Programmes from the last 10 years.

Attendees will have the opportunity to expand their network, share strategies and experiences whilst enjoying the Oxford experience.

Please email Annabelle Richards at the link below to register or learn more.

A New Impact Era

Last month, Oxford Impact Measurement Programme Director Karim Harji joined Cottino Social Impact Campus and ISTUD Business School, in partnership with the GSG.

Karim hosted and delivered a unique Learning Session for companies and managers interested in ESG and sustainability: "A New Impact Era, from strategy to measurement".
